Have you ever wanted to improve your singing voice? If so, you might want to consider taking voice lessons at Scripps in the music department next semester. We welcome all beginner, intermediate, and advanced students to join us for in-person singing lessons in the coming semester. This year we are using an online process so that students can sign up for auditions and submit materials immediately. The deadline for online submissions is January 13, 2023.

You will not be permed into voice lessons until the first week of the next semester. Voice lessons are usually .5 credits and half an hour weekly, unless you are a music major.

Instructions and description of our offerings are included on this page.

Please let me know if you need any other help— we hope you join us!
