9th Annual LURA Ceremony on April 21

The Claremont Colleges Library has selected the winners of its 9th Annual Library Undergraduate Research Award \(LURA\). Students who demonstrate exemplary original research and scholarship, including remarkable skill and creativity in the use of library and information resources, receive recognition and cash prizes ranging from $500 to $1,500 for their work.

A virtual awards ceremony to honor the winners will be held on Thursday, April 21, 2022 at 5 p.m. While friends, family and associated faculty of the winners are encouraged to attend, this is also a great opportunity for students across The Claremont Colleges consortium to draw inspiration from the winners' projects — especially as finals season approaches.

All those interested in attending should register through Zoom.

Visit the LURA webpage for additional information. Questions about LURA, including the awards ceremony and application process, can be directed to libraryresearchaward@claremont.edu.
