From: The Gould Center

The Gould Center would love to invite you to the Immersive Audio Show, "The World According to Sound," which will be taking place on Thursday, September 14th from 6:00PM-8:00PM at McKenna Auditorium on Claremont McKenna College's campus.

In this Immersive Audio Show, you will sit in the dark, surrounded by speakers and be immersed in sound while blindfolded. You will hear bridges and ants and the gurgle of mud pots. You will be transported inside another person's head, and back in time a hundred years to the streets of Berlin. There will be a musical performance by a washing machine, sonorous sporting events, and the howl Marco Polo heard while crossing the Gobi Desert. There's nothing to see in this show, it will be a spectacle entirely for the ears.

Chris Hoff and Sam Harnett from The World According to Sound podcast will be hosting this incredible night. RSVPs are appreciated, but not required. Light snacks will be served.

Interested???? RSVP for the event HERE.

We hope to see you there!
