

Tkach, Colleen

From: Inform
Subject: EM: Open Academy Saturday Salon - Should we Separate Art from the Artist?

From: Villegas, Alejandro

Greetings CMC community,

The Open Academy invites you to join us for a Saturday Salon centered around art and morality.

Should we separate art from its artist? Is it moral to engage with art that is problematic or inappropriate? To what degree should we support art created by bad people? These questions remain unanswered, especially in an era where the Internet and social media has broadcasted artists' public lives combined with growing accountability. The Open Academy will be hosting a Saturday Salon centered around art and morality, featuring Dr. James Harold, Professor and Chair of the Philosophy Department at Mount Holyoke College (and former CMC lecturer!), and Dr. Paul Taylor, Professor of Philosophy at University of California, Los Angeles. We invite you to participate in this interactive, multi-disciplinary discussion.

The Open Academy will be hosting Dr. James Harold, Professor and Chair of the Philosophy Department at Mount Holyoke College, Dr. Martha Bayles, author and humanities professor at Boston College (and former CMC lecturer!), and Dr. Paul Taylor, Professor of Philosophy at University of California, Los Angeles. We invite you to participate in this interactive, multi-disciplinary discussion.

Click here to register. The salon will be held Saturday, October 7th from 3-5 pm, followed by a dinner. We will email you to confirm your spot and will provide further details. We look forward to seeing you!

Saturday Salon: Art and Morality
Should we separate art from its artist? Is it moral to engage with art that is problematic or inappropriate? To what degree should we support art created by bad people? These questions remain unanswered, especially in an era where the Internet and social media has broadcasted artists' public lives combined with growing accountability. The Open Academy will be hosting a Saturday Salon centered around art and morality, featuring Dr. James Harold, Professor and Chair of the Philosophy Department at Mount Holyoke College (and former CMC lecturer!), and Dr. Paul Taylor, Professor of Philosophy at University of California, Los Angeles. We invite you to participate in this interactive, multi-disciplinary discussion. The salon will be held Saturday, October 7th from 3-5 pm, followed by a dinner at (inset dinner location). We will email you to confirm your spot and will provide further details. We look forward to seeing you at the event.
Your email will be received when you submit this form.
* To discuss required question

Saturday Salon: Art and Morality

Should we separate art from its artist? Is it moral to engage with art that is problematic or inappropriate? To what degree should we support art created by bad people? These questions remain unanswered, especially in an era where the Internet and social media has broadcasted artists' public lives combined with growing accountability. The Open Academy will be hosting Dr. James Harold, Professor and Chair of the Philosophy Department at Mount Holyoke College, Dr. Martha Bayles, author and humanities professor at Boston College (and former CMC lecturer!), and Dr. Paul Taylor, Professor of Philosophy at University of California, Los Angeles. We invite you to participate in this interactive, multi-disciplinary discussion. The salon will be held Saturday, October 7th from 3-5 pm at (inset salon location), followed by a dinner at (inset dinner location). We look forward to seeing you at the event.

docs.google.com

CMC
The Open Academy

Saturday Salon

Should We Separate Art from the Artist?

Join us for a discussion and dinner with Professors Paul Taylor, Martha Bayles, and James Harold

October 7
Salon at 3-5 PM
Dinner at 5:30

For any questions, contact Alevillegas@cmc.edu

Alejandro Villegas

Program Coordinator for The Open Academy & Dreier Roundtable

CMC The Open Academy

DREIER ROUNDTABLE
AT CLAREMONT MCKENNA COLLEGE