Greetings CMC community,

The Open Academy invites you to join us for a Saturday Salon, Shifting Terrains of Gender, Sex, and Society, for a discussion exploring questions related to gender and society. Click here to register.

How do social, cultural, and historical factors influence our understanding of gender and sex?

How do stereotypes and gender norms impact individuals and society, and how can we change them?

What challenges do transgender and non-binary people face in everyday life?

The Open Academy has invited Talia Bettcher, professor of philosophy at CSU Los Angeles, Juliet Williams, professor of Gender Studies at UCLA, and Christine Emba, columnist at The Washington Post, to speak on these questions, and we invite all 5C students and faculty to ask questions, share perspectives, and learn more about the intersections between gender and society.

The salon will be held on Saturday, December 9 from 3 - 5 PM. We will also invite the first 15 students that RSVP for dinner to join us to continue the discussion at Walter's, a restaurant in Claremont Village. We will email you to confirm your spot and will provide further details. We look forward to seeing you!
