

Tkach, Colleen

---

From: Inform
Subject: EM: Come Play a Student-Made Board Game, "Isles of Odd," at The Hive!

From: Salina Munoz

Attention gamers!

Two Hive Student Creativity Grant Fellows, Nico + Eli, have been developing and prototyping their board game, "Isles of Odd," for the better part of the year! On November 14, they will be hosting a pop-up at the Hive from 4:30-7 pm and are looking for players to come by and try their hand at the game!

"Isles of Odd" is an exciting and replayable board game that takes players on a pirate adventure! It accommodates up to four players, who navigate a fictional universe in which they gather gold, uncover new map tiles for a continuously growing ocean, and recruit crew members from various islands within the Odd to assist in their journey. The game is filled with naval battles, mysterious creatures, occasional divine interventions, and a vast array of tile and character combinations that make each game unique.

Please come by next week and play the game for yourself! See attached flyer for more information

