Spring 2025 – Voice Auditions

Dear 5C student,

Welcome to voice lessons at Scripps!

We welcome all levels of singers to take voice lessons at Scripps, in an online format this semester.

We specialize in vocal technique and repertoire study for musical theatre, opera, art song, geared to total beginners, and advanced performers alike.

All new singers must complete the audition before PERMing. (If you PERM before your audition, please don't be surprised that your PERM will not be granted.)

Online Audition NOW OPEN UNTIL
Friday, January 17, 5pm (before first week of class)

Placement auditions for voice lessons are now open, and our informational video and audition upload links/scheduler are found on this page:

<https://www.scrippscollege.edu/departments/music/voice-auditions>

Complete the audition video submission and information form asap after registration for the next semester, AFTER you know your other class schedule.

The webform will ask you for your class schedule, so we can work around your schedule.

In the 5-minute informational video, you will learn about auditions, and also about voice lesson offerings next semester.

Email me directly with any questions you might have after watching the video, and I will get right back to you.

See you at the auditions!
