DEPARTMENT OF NATURAL SCIENCES SEMINAR ANNOUNCEMENT:

"Leading in the Moment of DEI Resistance"

Oscar Holmes IV
Associate Professor of Management
Rutgers School of Business-Camden

Friday, February 7th, 2025
Burns Lecture Hall (NS E007)
12:15-1:15 PM

Abstract: The enactment of the Project 2025 agenda and anti-DEI laws and policies present existential threats to our democracy. Policymakers, leaders, and citizens who seek to protect our democracy must act strategically and quickly to thwart these threats. While the efforts to fight DEI opponents necessitate multifaceted approaches, this talk urges policymakers, leaders, and citizens to change the narrative around DEI and practice civil disobedience to fight the current anti-DEI efforts.
