From: Dreier Roundtable

Dreier Roundtable is excited to launch our inaugural Photojournalism Contest, celebrating student photographers whose work documents the world around them. We're looking for images that capture the moment, tell meaningful stories, and shape how we understand campus and public life today.

Categories include News, Feature, and Portrait, with prizes up to $250 per category, plus publication and recognition. Our judges include Pulitzer Prize-winning photographer David Hume Kennerly and longtime Los Angeles Times photographer Irfan Khan.
