

Tkach, Colleen

---

From: Inform
Subject: EM: Upcoming Event: Arthur Sze at the Ath (April 13)

From: Haro Hernandez, Viviana

The Literature Department, in collaboration with the Salvatori Center and the President's Leadership Fund, invites you to An Evening at the Ath with United States Poet Laureate Arthur Sze on Monday, April 13th. Please see the attached flyer for more details.

An Evening at the Ath with United States Poet
Laureate Arthur Sze

The 2025-26 United States Poet Laureate Arthur Sze's poetry is recognized for its "intellectual and visceral experience" (Brooklyn Rail). The Library of Congress describes his "poetry as distinctly American in its focus on the landscapes of the Southwest, where he has lived for many years, as well as in its great formal innovation. Like Emily Dickinson and Walt Whitman, Sze forges something new from a range of traditions and influences - and the result is a poetry that moves freely throughout time and space." Sze will offer his reflections and read from his vast collection of works.

MONDAY,
APRIL 13
5:30 @ THE ATH

Sign-up here:
<https://www.cmc.edu/athenaeum/evening-united-states-poet-laureate-arthur-sze>

Arthur Sze
United States Poet Laureate

Sponsored by the Department of Literature, the Salvatori Center, and the President's Leadership Funds